

Dance School Expands to Serve Community Better

More class options, class days, and class times to better meet the needs of busy families.

The Caledonia Dance Center has expanded its schedule to six days each week, offering a more diverse program and convenient class times to the residents of Caledonia and surrounding areas. According to School Director Rodriguez, the school has grown faster than anticipated over the last ten years. The fast growth is due to a dedication to providing convenient, top quality instruction to its students in a fun and caring atmosphere.

Every year, the dance studio has added more members to its teaching staff and has upgraded facilities by such things as quality sound systems, observation monitors, and professional "floating" dance floors. Again, this September, the dance center will start the season with more instructors, dancers, and classes than ever before.

Caledonia Dance Center has been such a wonderful experience for Jenna. CDC has excellent instructors and customer service. They really take the time to know the dancers individually and to challenge them. For the last ten year, CDC has taught my daughter self confidence, self reliance, and how to be a team player. These skills, the friendships and the wonderful memories she is making will last her a lifetime! Thank you CDC!

the teachers and students energized. The floor of one other classroom is wall-to-wall professional hardwood. A professional hardwood floor is a one-of-a-kind dance surface due to the huge expense involved in building a wooden dance floor. Like a floating floor, the center's hardwood floor is designed to give way as downward pressure is exerted, thus reducing fatigue and helping prevent injury.

The Caledonia Dance Center's unique location makes for a "Broadway feel" during class. Over 3,100 square feet of classroom space covers the second story of an historic city block with 16 six-foot windows, all of which promote the dance center's New York City ambiance.

What Sets Caledonia Dance Center Apart?

Rodriguez emphasizes the importance of careful costume and music selection at the dance center. "In this day and age, young people are exposed to explicit lyrics in songs on the radio and suggestive dance moves and costumes on television. Great dancing does not have to be made up of these things." The school's instructors share Rodriguez' view and provide professional training in a fun and caring atmosphere.

Plans for 2011

This year, with the additional class days and times, improved dance space, and more teachers, the studio is offering more of its most popular classes such as hip-hop, evening adult classes, and their renowned preschool programs.

Due to the expansion of the studio's schedule and staff, the dance center is accepting registrations through the end of summer as long as space is available. All are welcome to stop in to visit the dance center, talk with their friendly office staff, and register

We have been involved with Caledonia Dance Center for 9 years now. It has been such an amazing journey over the last years! Lauren has grown so much as a dancer and still looks forward every week to going to class.

We have been so impressed with the professionalism and kindness shown by everyone from the staff behind the counter to the teachers and right on up to the guest choreographers.

One of the things that I am so grateful for is the music, dances and costumes that are always tasteful and appropriate, and I never have to worry about what kind of message is being sent. Friends and family who have had the opportunity to see the recital at the end of the year have all commented on how organized the event is and how great all the performances are. We look forward to many more years of dance with Caledonia Dance Center!

Large Variety of Dance Classes

The dance school's program offers everything from hip-hop to tap dance to Classical ballet and much more. The school even offers a special "Boyz" class for boys ages five and up. Classes are available to students as young as 2 1/2 and all levels of experience. With beginner classes for all ages including adults, Studio Director Rodriguez says that it's never too late to start dancing.

Facilities Offer Extra Benefits for Dancers

One of the most important features of a dance studio is the type of flooring used. The Caledonia Dance Center uses floating Marley floors, which have over 2,000 compression foam blocks under the surface of each floor. These blocks absorb the impact of dancing and help keep for dance classes. Class sizes are limited and openings are filling fast. The dance center recommends registering early for the best selection of classes. Call 616-891-1606 or visit www.CaledoniaDanceCenter.com for registration and more information.

We love Caledonia Dance Center because of the excellent teachers and strong programs. Their class offerings are perfect for every age and ability level, even offering an "all boys" class.
